Jack and Jill went up the hill
to fetch a pail of water.
Jack fell down and broke his crown,
and Jill came tumbling after.

Little Miss Muffet sat on her tuffet eating her curds and whey.
Along came a spider and sat down beside her and frightened Miss Muffet away.

Little Boy Blue come blow your horn,
The sheep's in the meadow, the cow's in the corn.
Where is the boy who looks after the sheep?
He's under the haystack fast asleep.

A large, ornate red grandfather clock is shown. A small grey mouse is climbing up the side of the clock. The clock face is blue with Roman numerals and a red dot at the top. The background is blue with white diagonal lines.

Hickory, dickory, dock!
The mouse ran up the clock.
The clock struck one,
the mouse ran down,
Hickory, dickory, dock!

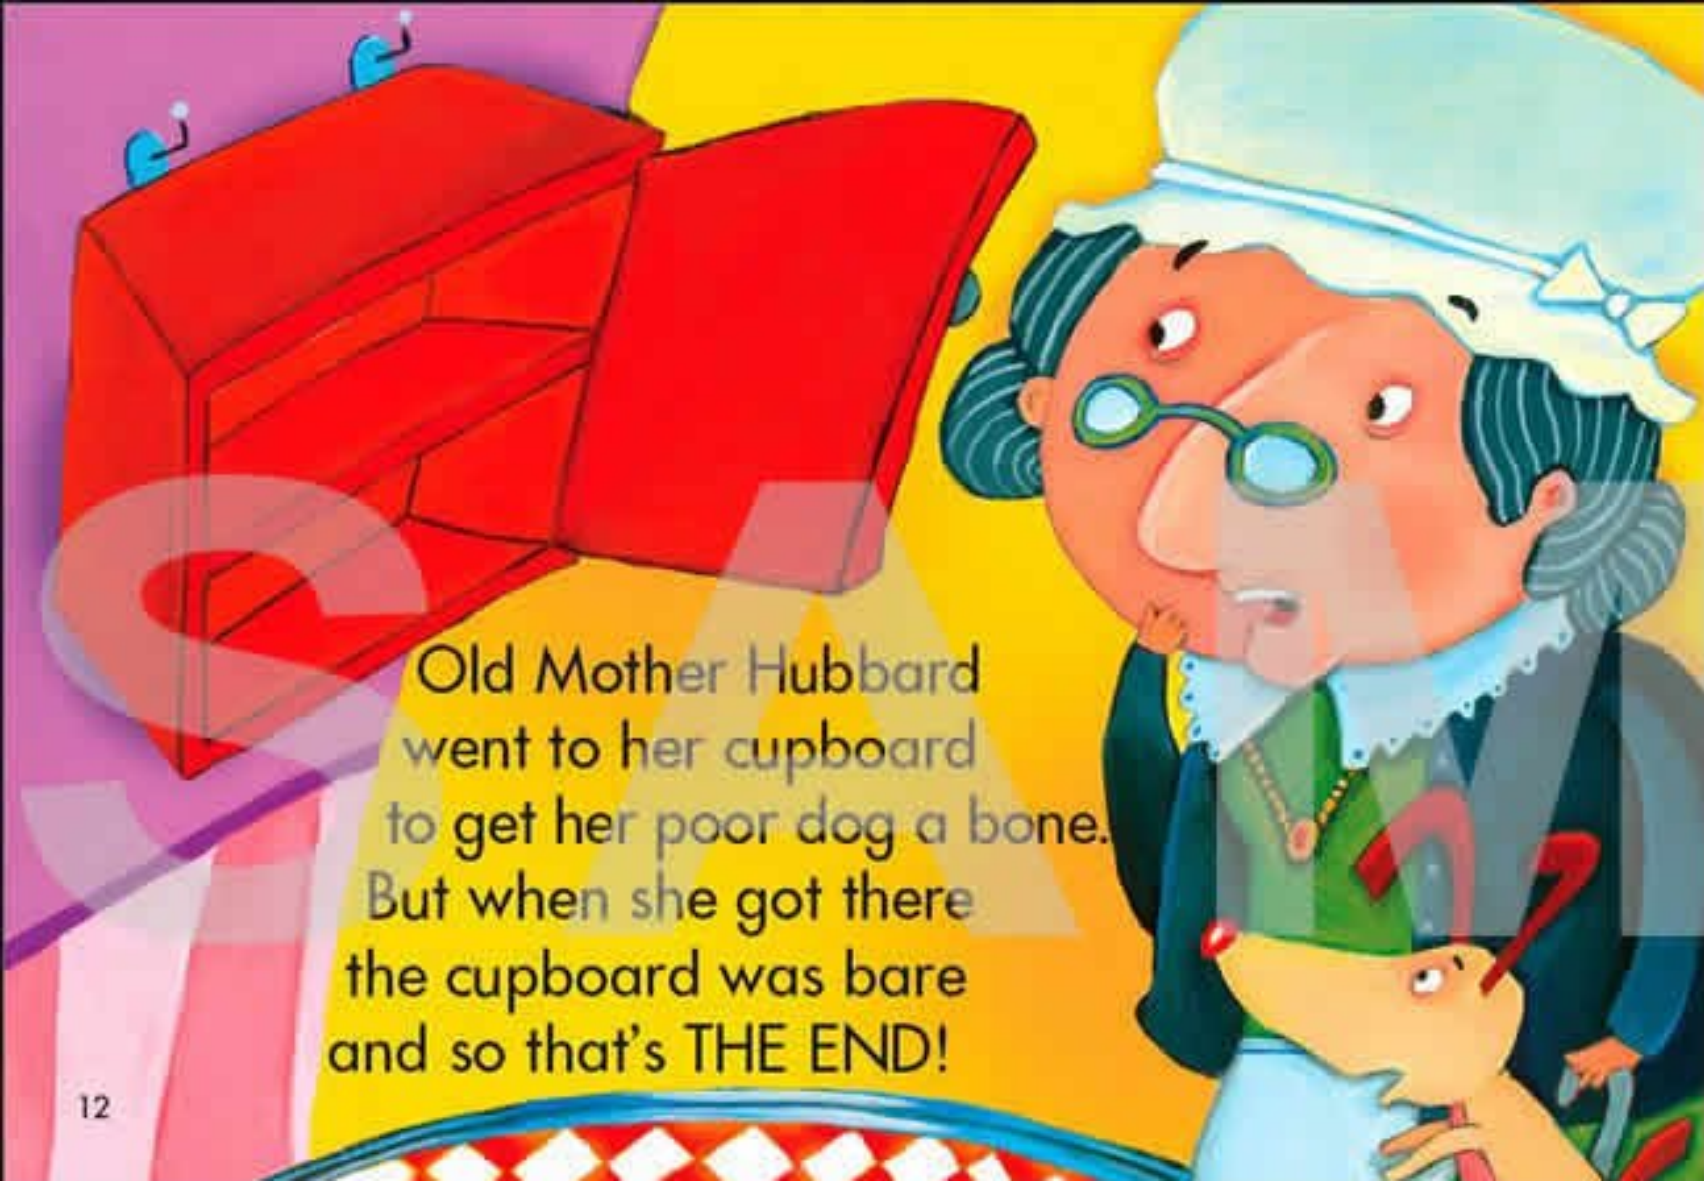

A vibrant garden scene with a blue sky. In the foreground, there are yellow hills with several orange and white cockle shells. Behind them are green plants with large, purple, dotted flowers. In the background, there are several tall, thin green stems with clusters of white, bell-shaped flowers hanging from them. The overall scene is bright and colorful.

Mary, Mary, quite contrary,
how does your garden grow?
With silver bells and cockle shells and pretty maids all in a row.

A woman with blonde, curly hair wearing a yellow straw hat with a red and white patterned band and a pink dress is watering a garden. She is holding a blue watering can with a white handle and a white nozzle. The garden is green with several colorful flowers: a blue one, a purple one, and an orange one. In the background, there are more green plants and a pink, rounded structure. A small red character with a white umbrella is visible on the right side of the page.

Old Mother Hubbard went to her cupboard
to get her poor dog a bone.
But when she got there
the cupboard was bare and so that's THE END!

Sing Along & Read Along with Dr. Jean

Research has shown that the rhythm, phrasing, and dynamics of music enhance early language development. Follow the words in these playful and engaging stories while singing along with the music to help connect oral and written language and improve reading skills and vocabulary development. Children will experience the joy of music through song and story with Sing Along & Read Along with Dr. Jean.

Music and song also affect children's development in the following ways:

- Increase memory/retention
- Aid sound discrimination
- Improve listening skills
- Improve rhythmic skills
