

A PICTURE-PERFECT CLASS!

To create this display, use the camera pattern (page 81) to make a construction paper camera for each child. Cut each pattern where indicated. Tape a different child's photograph behind each lens opening. Then tape a small piece of foil behind the flash opening. Display the cameras with the title "A Picture-Perfect Class!"

This s A Bright Bunch!

Here's a bright idea to welcome your new batch of students! Bring several old pairs of sunglasses to school. On the first day, photograph students in groups of two or three wearing the sunglasses. Duplicate the sunglasses pattern (page 82) on different colors of construction paper for students to cut out. Attach the photographs to the sunglasses patterns; then mount them on the board with a large cut-out sun.

Start the year on a "beary" positive note! Duplicate the teddy bear pattern (page 83) on construction paper for each child. Cut out and label each bear with a student's name. Also cut out a speech bubble from white paper for each student. Mount the bears and speech bubbles as shown on the bulletin board. Later in the week have each child tell about one thing that makes him special. Write his comment in the speech bubble above his bear.

Youngsters' contributions will add a colorful touch to this door display. Before the first day of school, send each child an introductory letter along with a personalized crayon pattern (page 84) cut from white construction paper. Ask each student to color, paint, or otherwise decorate the crayon shape his favorite color and bring it to school on the first day. After using the crayons for various activities, mount them onto a door covered with brightly colored paper.
